MEN'S CLUB HOLDS FALL OUTING

President Myron H. Clark Host to Men of South Church. Baseball and Other Sports Enjoyed Before Campfire Supper and Music.

The first annual outing of the South Church Men's club was held at the home of its president, Myron H. Clark, on Highland road, last Friday evening.

About fifty members gathered at 5:30 and from then until 8:30 there was something doing every minute. The evening started with a ball game, a team captained by Arthur Cole defeating a team captained by "Doc" McTernan. Mr. Bigelow at third base and Mr. Foster in centerfield proved to be the stars of the evening. Ralph Cole won the potato race with "Doc" Stowers a close second. A walking race proved a lot of fun and was won by Mr. Foster. In the ball-throwing contest "Bob" McKinnon came first with Ned Hamond second.

After these events, supper call sounded and everyone jumped for the mess line. A committee under Henry A. Bodwell had prepared an appetizing feed over a campfire, consisting of corn, hot dogs, rolls, doughnuts, coffee and ice cream. After several songs led by Arthur Bassett, Mr. Clark spoke a few words about plans for the club during the winter season. The gathering began to break up about 8:30, voting this one of the most successful "get togethers" of the club.

FLORIDA HURRICANE

Word Received in Andover that Former Residents Are Safe—Several Others Plan for Southern Journey

The consequences of the terrible hurricane which brought death and devastation to Florida, have come very near to Andover people, fortunately not by loss of life, but by the destruction of property.

Although news is as yet but fragmentary, those who believe in Florida are still optimistic and hope that the first reports are exaggerated. Mr. and Mrs. Horace Hale Smith have not yet set the date for their departure for Fort Lauderdale. Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Scott leave tomorrow for St. Petersburg, where the damage is said to be slight.

Mrs. Michael Golden of Pearson street received the following telegram from her son, Michael J. Cohan, who has been living in Miami, Florida, for the past three years.

West Palm Beach, Fla., Sept. 20
Mrs. Catherine C. Golden:
All safe; both buildings standing; letters following. Notify papers.

Mr. Cohan is a lawyer and has been engaged in the legal part of the real estate business in Florida. He formerly lived in Andover, where he has many friends.

A telegram announcing the safety of Matthew Burns and his son, Dean, in Miami, Florida, was received by Mrs. Burns, Monday afternoon at her home on Sutherland street.

Deep anxiety was felt by relatives and friends for the safety of Mr. Burns and his son, as well as two other Shawheen Villagers now located in the devastated area. The joyful news received by Mrs. Burns was given to the Townsman reporter when he called at her home.

Much difficulty is being encountered in getting messages through, as all means of communication were practically destroyed.

Mr. Burns, a former Lawrence alderman, made his home in the village for the last five years where he was employed as foreman of the Shawheen Forge until that department was closed down.

Mr. Burns took an active interest in town affairs particularly those connected with the Shawheen. Before his removal to Miami, he was a candidate from Precinct 3, for the Board of Public Works. He is now holding the responsible position of Superintendent of the East Coast Boiler and Machine Co., located in Miami. His many friends in town will be pleased to learn that Mr. Burns and his son escaped possible death or injury.

Word has been received at the home of William Rennie on Binney street, announcing his escape from injury in the terrific hurricane which destroyed Miami where he was located.

Evening School Opens at Lawrence Y. M. C. A.

The evening school promoted by the Industrial Department of the Lawrence Y. M. C. A. will begin the Fall term of twelve weeks Monday evening, September 27, at 7:30 o'clock. This will be the seventh year of these evening study courses with an attendance the last six years of over 3000 students and an average age of 29 years.

It is the policy of the department to furnish an opportunity to that large group of ambitious students seeking self-improvement along cultural or trade lines. This opportunity is furnished at the greatest convenience and at a minimum cost. It is an endeavor to give a chance for many to fill out little defects in their educational equipment, which helps them to be more efficient in their positions and prepares them for advancement. It seeks to encourage those following home study courses by furnishing them one night each week the inspiration of a good teacher to direct and correct their work.

These studies act as finding courses to many a student who is trying to locate himself in a vocation, or work out of an uncongenial occupation. They are used by many as mental stimulus to tone up their intellectual life and keep them from the misuse or abuse of mental faculties. In other words to keep them intellectually fit.

These courses are open to men and women—no required membership.

Inquire of G. Edgar Folk, Industrial Secretary, Y. M. C. A., regarding these evening study courses.

A new evening study course in the Construction and Operation of the Automobile will be given under the direction of the Industrial Department of the Lawrence Y. M. C. A. The course will last one term of twelve weeks and will cover the following subjects:

"The Automobile and Its Power Plant;" "Gasoline," Carburetion and Fuel Supply;" "Lubrication and the Cooling System;" "Electricity as Applied to the Automobile;"

"Starting Systems;" "Ignition;" "Storage Batteries;" "Lighting Systems;" "The Chassis and the Separate Units—Wheels, Rims and Tires."

Equipment of cutaway motors and other parts of the car may be seen in motion. An equipment showing over 500 pictures of the different parts and models of the automobile will be used; charts and motion pictures may be seen to help the student understand the working of the car.

The first of the course will be held on Monday evening, September 27, at 7:30 o'clock. Inquiries may be made to G. Edgar Folk, Industrial Department, Y. M. C. A.

An Evening Study course in Art will hold the first session on Thursday evening, September 30th, Y. M. C. A. This is a course promoted by the Industrial Department for men and women who desire to learn how to draw or to improve their drawing.

Subjects considered will be: "Commercial Art;" "Cartooning;" "Perspective;" "Light and Shade;" "Pen and Ink for Reproduction;" "Life Study;" "Live Models."

The course will cover a term of twelve weeks and will be held each Thursday evening.

The class will be taught by Charles Gowing Smith.

Register with G. Edgar Folk, Industrial Secretary, Y. M. C. A.

The Powerful Russian Bases

No country produces such basses as Russia. Whether it is the effect of the severe climate or the strong physique of the Russian peasants, it is a fact generally known that the deepest, most sonorous and richest bass-voices come from Russia. There is even a humorous story current in Russia and based on this fact. It is being told, namely,—that a Choir was being organized in Heaven and the angel in charge of the proceedings issued a call for singers. Hundreds of sopranos, contraltos, altos, tenors and baritones applied for the job, but only one basso-profundo, a Russian, appeared on the scene. The angel had to put up with the scarcity of basses and organized his choir of six hundred voices with only one bass in the rear ranks. When the first rehearsal was called to order, the celestial conductor gave his choir their cue and asked them to sing a note with full voice. No sooner did the obedient singers open their mouths than the aspiring choir conductor bade them be still and shouted: "A little less bass there in the in the back." That solitary Russian basso-profundo covered all the other six hundred voices of the celestial choir.

This is only a story but there is a good deal of truth in it. A Russian bass, unless he is in perfect control, can drown out a whole regiment of sopranos. Local music lovers will have an opportunity to hear a real Russian bass when the Russian Symphonic Choir makes its local appearance here at George Washington Hall on October 23 under the leadership of Basil Kilbalchich, only in this case that bass will be under the control of an able, experienced conductor who will see that this powerful voice enhances but does not disturb this remarkable ensemble. This unusual bass voice was commented upon recently in a "Times" criticism as follows: "The Choir had to repeat the Russian Kull, a native game song, arranged by Kilbalchich with male voices of muted violin and cello quality and a startling deep bass imitation of drums."

Shawsheen Lumber Company Purchases Mill in Bangor Maine

The Shawsheen Lumber company of Andover, with offices in the K. and D. block on Main street, has purchased a large saw mill in Bangor, Maine, and organized under the name of The Maine-Maritime Lumber company.

After making extensive repairs and enlarging the mills, the new owners will start operations on hard wood, one of the first to be opened in Maine since the hardwood development boom started a year ago. The company will do little manufacturing there, but will cut the timber and ship it to Massachusetts and other states where there are factories for the manufacture of furniture, novelties, etc. Maple, beech, and birch will be cut and the company has stumpage leases on large tracts heavily wooded with hardwood growth.

New machinery will be installed and it is planned to start work this fall with two million feet as the output for this season. It is intended to increase the output to five or six millions next year. The mill will be run by steam, although the company has a water power nearby which ultimately may be utilized.

Herbert W. Bowler of Salem street is the president of the Shawsheen Lumber company.

The Florida Disaster

Below is reprinted an editorial from Monday's Traveler on the Florida disaster. Florida's appeal did not fall on deaf ears. The Red Cross already has the situation well under control, preventing and relieving sickness, healing the injured, helping those in distress, and burying the victims of the gale. The country's quick response is a just matter of pride.

Mighty and terrible is the calamity which has visited southeastern Florida. Many thousands are homeless. A thousand are dead. Unnumbered persons are injured. Homes and public buildings which yesterday stood erect as monuments of man's handiwork, today lie in ruins—destroyed by the breath of a furious hurricane—one of the worst tropical storms that ever burst upon human habitations since the dawn of history.

Sympathy and the desire to help will be felt universally. New England in particular has many connections with Florida; in fact, some New Englanders are already known to have perished in this disaster.

Florida's appeal for help should not will not fall upon deaf ears. Military aid will be sent. The Red Cross, maintained in readiness for just such emergencies, is already throwing its resources into the breach. There will be a convincing demonstration of the fact that disaster and death falling upon any part of this common country is an affair of all the people.

Floridians will meet this crisis in their life as a state with courage and resolute will. In a short time the material damage, estimated at $125,000,000, will be repaired and even fairer cities will arise from the wreckage.

But the dead will not return to their accustomed places. The mourning for human companions lost in that devastating storm will be deep and prolonged.

Sunday Sports

The climax to the discussion for and against Sunday sports in this state was to come at the next State election on November 2, when voters were to have an opportunity of registering their wishes in the matter. An initiative petition was signed by 20,000 voters and the issue seemed ready for the ballots, when, due to discrepancies between the first petition and an additional one by 5000 voters, the matter was ordered omitted from the ballots by the Supreme Court.

The 1925 Legislature had refused to pass the law on the strength of the first petition, and the case was to come up at election time provided 5000 additional signatures were secured. Important differences in the wording of the two petitions caused the court to revoke the whole matter.

It is greatly to be regretted that this blunder prevented this measure from coming to an issue. Years ago anyone who thought of legitimizing Sunday sports would have been ostracized as an agent of the devil. The fact that only a careless bungle prevented a state-wide expression of opinion this year is evidence of a more open-minded point of view in modern times. There was a time when good people were supposed to do nothing but be meek and holy on Sundays, but in recent years many activities are quite permissible. Watching a good game of ball is not the worst thing that could be done on the Lord's Day. After all, Sunday was made for man, and not man for Sunday.

Notwithstanding, the Townsman does not come out in favor of Sunday sports. It simply regrets the former narrow attitude and is glad to see evidence of a more tolerant point of view. It would certainly be too bad if Sunday were used for sordid commercial schemes.

The long list of petition-signers, and the prominence of certain supporters of the proposed law reveal a deep desire for Sunday sports. Among the backers are former Mayor John F. Fitzgerald of Boston, former Mayor Ashley of New Bedford, and former Attorney-General Parker. The opinion of these men is worthy of respect.

If the majority of voters of the Commonwealth want Sunday sports they should have a chance to say so. If the majority do not favor Sunday sports, the opposition should be told so by the ballot returns. We hope a new petition will be drawn up, and the question voted upon so that it may be settled one way or the other (we don't care which), in true democratic fashion.

Editorial Cinder

The unexpected and stupendous disaster in Florida has naturally led the sympathetic public to consider the best means of sending relief to the stricken people of that state. The local branch of the Red Cross, having already through its Roll Call solicited the residents of the town for annual subscriptions, does not propose now to conduct a house-to-house canvass; but it has made a contribution from its funds for disaster relief, and it offers an opportunity, as announced elsewhere, for people to send their cheques through Mr. Chester W. Holland to this most worthy cause. If Andover responds in its usual generous way, a considerable sum will go forward to the National Headquarters of the Red Cross as the gift of our own community.

Vacation Experience Meeting

The vacation experience meeting of the Andover Natural History society was held in the Punched lecture room Tuesday evening with fifteen members present.

The secretary's report was read by Miss Alice Wear, after which the members recounted the experiences of their summer's holiday.

President Omar P. Chase, who visited at Springfield, Vermont, described his visit to the State's prison at Windsor, a country auction where a large herd of registered Jersey stock was sold, and excursions about the country in search of old penter.

Miss Abbie Abbott who spent the summer at Bridgton, Maine, passed on the information that the town was named after an Andover man, Moody Bridges, as was also Fryeburg after General Joseph Frye.

Mr. Hamblin had had the pleasure of ascending Kearsarge by a new trail, and of observing loons at close range at Kimball pond.

The western part of Massachusetts was the vacation spot chosen by Jonathan Holt. He visited Garnet rock at Northfield and also the museum at Amherst college where he viewed the footprints of prehistoric dinosaurs preserved in the sandstone in which that region abounds.

Mr. Hamblin, with the aid of the stereopticon, showed some photographs of Mt. Desert contributed by Miss Goldsmith.

The next meeting will be the annual picnic feast at Berry pond, leaving the Punched school by auto bus at 3.45 o'clock, Saturday, October 2.

Poor Little Snub-Noses

That exciting play, "The Bat," having been filmed is now showing in hundreds of cities and towns. Advertising is a great part of the movie game and the back pages of movie magazines are devoted to stunts warranted to focus attention upon the play of the week. Anyone can see that the houses showing "The Bat" would logically procure live bats and display them, that the public might shudder at an animal whose obnoxiousness most people believe is equalled by the snake alone. The habits of the creature being a blank page to most people, some theater attaché puts a can of water in the cage, and some dry bread perhaps, and then blames the bats that they do not eat.

On making inquiry at a box office window in our town regarding the bats caged in front of the theater, I learned that they had been confined for more than a week, and that they were not hungry since they would not eat the bread and milk put in the cage for them. Four of these bats were mothers, two of them having given birth to babies while in the cage.

The boys who had been carrying the cage in and out during the week were very much interested in learning that a bat would not eat out of a dish but while in captivity must be fed by hand. That was all very well, but brave as young men of eighteen may be, not one of them was brave enough to feed one of those caged bats. The promised fate of these bats was to be smothered in order to get a good picture of them, "which was the proper thing," the pretty girl at the window asserted since they were "just full of vermin" and really no good anyway.

It being quite evident that nothing could be done by appeals to the theater, to the Humane Society was consulted and through him we were able to secure a promise of the bats' release for Friday, although it was Saturday noon before they were delivered. By this time four were lying dead on the floor of the cage. Feeding them warm milk, on a small paint brush, and then scraped beef, resulted in three of the bats recovering enough to fly away within an hour. One hoary bat died while we were feeding it. Saturday evening another died, and the next morning a mother bat with a very tiny baby clinging to her were found huddled up on the cage floor having died during the night, as had one large hoary bat near by.

Since a bat does not thrive on this type of feeding we were desirous of getting them out-of-doors as soon as possible that they might go winging their way towards a properly balanced meal, garnered from the variety of bugs circling about the street lights. Five of the bats ate well, drank well, and would probably revive in the open so we put them on the branches of various trees. They settled themselves as though they liked the movement of the branches in the breeze, and we hoped they would live in good health by evening, but the next day's search found two of these dead. That meant that three, possibly, had survived. This made six live bats back in their own element. We still had four babies, so small their eyes were as yet unopened, whose mothers had perished.

For three days these were nursed on warm milk which they sucked in greedily from the paint brush, upon which they clung with a surprising strength. They never did understand why the brush had to be removed before the next swallow was a possibility. They liked warm hands and cuddled down, trying to find a fold of flesh which they could grasp with their tiny mouths. We swaddled them in a woolly bit of cloth and directed the warmth from an electric light bulb upon them. One of them died within twenty-four hours but the other three lived for several days. One acquired the timidity of black eyes, and the hair on its back began to show which were hoary bats and which was a little New York red bat. The second one succumbed and the last two it was necessary to chloroform, so pitifully difficult had life become for them.

And so, out of twenty-one bats, (acquired by offering mercenary small boys twenty-five cents a bat), innocent of any harmful act but enmeshed in the deadly snare of superstition and misinformation, only six were rescued. In reviewing the play the following Sunday, an enthusiastic and ignorant newspaper cub wrote, "Inside the box they drowsed the time away, comfortably hanging head downward as they slept." Anyone who has ever held one of these soft, velvety creatures in his hands, has watched the snub-nosed face eating pin-head sized bits of scraped beef, listened to the comical clicking indignation, or their comparatively dreadful anger, will not pass by these cages without some effort to release these scorned, abused, and thoroughly misunderstood bit of Nature's handiwork.—Marjorie Shanafelt in "Our Dumb Animals," September 1926.

The brief message was received on Monday and ended the anxiety of his wife and family which gripped them since the first news of the catastrophe reached the public. Mr. Rennie was employed with the East Coast Boiler and Machine Co., of which Matthew Burns is Superintendent.

"Both safe, house wrecked," is the telegram which Mr. and Mrs. William B. Cheever of Chestnut street received from their daughter, Mrs. William F. Fessenden, with whom her husband made her home in Miami.

Local People Interested in Fate of Florida

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Hale Smith of Maple road still await with interest news from Fort Lauderdale where they own a winter home for which they had anticipated departing in about two weeks.

Local readers of The Boston Herald were especially interested in the panoramic view of Fort Lauderdale printed on Page 6 of Monday morning's issue which contained a picture of the boat "Shawsheen," formerly owned by Mr. Smith in which he and his wife took the 350-mile cruise from Jacksonville to Fort Lauderdale when he purchased the boat four or five years ago. In the same picture, just at the right of the boat "Shawsheen," one may see the drawbridge which jammed the boat "Shawsheen" on the main road south to Miami to traffic. On that day Mr. Smith carried 2,020 passengers across the river between nine o'clock in the morning and six at night, although the capacity of the boat is only thirty. At six o'clock on the same night he sold the boat to the Santa Barbara States, a real estate corporation of Pompano.

The picture also shows the Hotel Broward built by George Henry, who furnished lumber for the spruce flooring of the Wood Mill. Mr. Henry was also the builder of many large public buildings in Fort Lauderdale. He was associated in business with Cheever Mitchell, son of the Rev. Charles L. Mitchell of Methuen, who married a Miss Tenney, formerly of Andover.

A picture on Page 2 of yesterday morning's Herald shows one of the main streets of Miami on which is stranded the boat Isis which accompanied the Shawsheen when the Smith's made their first trip on her from Jacksonville to Fort Lauderdale.

Russian Symphonic Choir Captures New York

It is seldom that a new artist or new musical organization appearing in New York receives the unanimous verdict of the metropolitan press. As a rule the critics are divided in their opinions, except that when a debut is manifestly unique, every criticism is adverse. But when the verdict is unanimously favorable, even enthusiastic, there can be no doubt as to the musical value of an artistic attraction. Thus, when the Russian Symphonic Choir, under Basil Kibichich, made its unaided New York debut in two recitals, every criticism on both occasions was more than favorable. It is impossible to quote here all the comments, but a few excerpts will suffice. After the debut recital the comments were as follows:

New York Herald: "The performance deserved admiration for its accuracy and perfect control, each of the women and men of the choir seeming as much under the conductor's direction as instrumental players of a well drilled orchestra."

New York Times: "To New Yorkers it was a delight to hear the Volga Boatmen's 'Ch' Chnem' as it has rarely been sung here."

New York World: "The result is a volume of tone which might come from one sensitive and perfectly tuned instrument except that these singers add their own spirit of every human joy and melancholy."

New York Sun: "His complete control of a fine range of dynamics, his regard for vocal details and melodic outline and the resulting product lead to the hope that the new choir may be heard again in the near future."

New York American: "The Choir is well balanced and the individual members are evidently gifted and trained singers far above the ordinary in their ability to reveal the composer's ideas and the conductor's intention."

Upon the occasion of the second concert these opinions were corroborated as follows: New York Times: "The chorus not only sings but sings, and by means of fine gradations of tone and accent often suggests a string orchestra."

New York Tribune: "As before, their singing and striking effects and contrasts in timbre, pitch and volume. It was an interesting, effective performance and won a large volume of applause."

New York American: "Perfection of attack beautiful tone and correct intonation, whether the singing was full voice or hummed are only a few of the outstanding achievements of the Kibichich Choir."

These are only an indication of the musical treat which awaits local music lovers, when the Russian Symphonic Choir will make its local appearance at George Washington Hall on October 23.

Advise Hot Lunch for the School Child

One of the causes of undernourishment in school children is the lack of a proper lunch, states the Massachusetts Department of Public Health. The child who must remain in school through the lunch hour should be provided with a well-balanced lunch, including if possible, milk or a hot drink or hot dish. This is important in adding to the food value of the lunch, in making the child's appetite keener, and in helping digestion. Too many school children make their noon meal of dry sandwiches alone, or worse still they lunch on candy. Sandwiches made of dark bread and butter with a nourishing filling, plain cake or cookies, and dessert consisting of a milk pudding or fruit will comprise the rest of the school lunch.

Square and Compass Club Bowl

The Square and Compass Club bowlers held forth at the Cafeteria alleys last night. It was a tame competition, that is if one can imagine forty quiet, mirthless men of the type of Ike Kimball, Kirk Batchelder, George Wiswall, Joe Higginson, Ned Hammond, Roy Hardy, Frank Baldwin and George Higgins shooting them down the lanes, accompanied by yells that would shame Sitting Bull's warriors. Really it was no place for a nervous man. Each team was anxious to get away with a flying start by scoring a victory in the first game, and Miss Victory was there with wings on, and what a merry page she set before she was captured by one team or the other!

Some very good bowling and some very poor bowling was disclosed when the tally sheets were checked up.

Albion heard after the games: Charlie Hill — "Too many gutters." Ike Kimball — "Sponges too wet." Nat Chadwick — "Billiards is my game."

Harry Russell — "New ten years ago on the Smith & Dove alleys."

Kirk Batchelder — "They must have put soap on the balls."

George Higgins — "Eighty-one is a good score for me."

Ralph Baker — "I could have done better only my arm was stiff."

Harry Sellars — "Wait a little while."

Dana Clark — "If I only had my transit."

Bob Dobbie — "Balls too big for my hand."

Joe Higginson — "Too many holes after that ball."

Bill Midgley — "Thursday a bad night for me; tired after Wednesday."

William Thompson — "I'm as good as the young ones yet."

Decrease in Fire Loss

The fire loss in Massachusetts for the year ending December 31, 1925, was $18,622,675 on which insurance companies paid $16,120,135, according to figures given out by State Fire Marshal George C. Neal. The total number of fires was 9,166, of which 6,123 were in frame buildings, 2,222 in brick, stone or cement buildings, and 821 other than building fires. Marshal Neal states the fire loss for 1925 shows a reduction from that of the year before of approximately $3,500,000. In cases arising from arson and incendiaries there were 89 arrests and prosecutions, of which number 41 resulted in conviction, ten were found "not guilty," two were "not proved," and the remainder are pending disposition in the superior court. The loss of life in fires during the year was twenty-nine including thirteen men, eight women, and eight children. These figures do not cover accidental deaths occasioned by fire in a manner other than by fires occurring in buildings. In the various stable fires occurring during the year the loss by fire of livestock consisted of 35 horses, 17 cows, and two dogs. For the state as a whole the total value of property partially destroyed by fire was $252,635,512, and the amount of insurance on this property was $265,951,741. The entire state there were 118 fires of incendiary origin, with a loss of $342,626, and there were 504 fires of unknown origin with a loss of $3,785,096.

She: "Why is it that they always refer to ships as 'she'? Is it because they are so beautiful and glide along so gracefully?"
He: "No, it's because their rigging costs so much and there's so little to it and it's only to catch the wind anyway."

Communication

Though Miss Easton has not requested me to act as advance agent for her recital on the organ in Seales Hall Methuen, on Monday evening, Oct. 4, at 8 o'clock, I may nevertheless allow myself to call the attention of music-lovers in Andover to the opportunity to hear what is probably the finest organ on this side the Atlantic. As is probably well known this organ was formerly in Music Hall in Boston. Only a few months ago the representative of perhaps our best American organ builders after hearing the instrument for the first time, remarked to the writer: "It is better than St. Sulpice in Paris."

"Widor's organ — 'And as good as Notre Dame' — Vienne's organ. 'That is no faint praise from a competitive organ builder. About the same time also one of the greatest of the English organ builders, Mr. Willis, after spending some time at the instrument, remarked to the writer: 'This was one of the best afternoons I have spent in America.' Certainly the organ is a splendid example of the great European Cathedral instruments." C. F. P.

Smith &amp; Dove Top Riversides

Smith & Dove's soccer eleven won their Boston District league from the Riversides of Worcester on the Andover crease Saturday afternoon by the score of 4-1. The lads from the Heart of the Commonwealth held the Doves even in the first half, each team scoring one goal.

In the second half, the Andover club performed at top form, scoring three times and outclassing their opposition. It was Smith & Dove's first win in the league this season and their fine showing indicates that they have found their stride and will make things interesting for all the clubs in the circuit.

Don't idly dream—there is no time for dreaming—No time to drone and loiter on the way; With opportunity each day is teeming. That till you deign to waken will not stay. Be then alert, for all around you calling Are voices, to press onward, heard by few; Heed them, and venture, with no fear of falling—Don't idly dream.—George Birdseye.

SEASONABLE GOOD THINGS

Salads are always acceptable. The following is nourishing enough to take the place of a main dish at a meal:

East India Salad. Cream until smooth two cream cheeses with one-half cupful of equal parts of cream and milk, add one-half cupful of grated cheese, three-fourths of a tablespoonful of gelatin softened in a tablespoonful of cold water, then add one tablespoonful of boiling water. Season with paprika and cayenne and turn into a border mold. Chill thoroughly, remove from the mold, arrange on a bed of lettuce and serve with the following sauce:

Curry Sauce.—Mix one-fourth of a teaspoonful of pepper with three-fourths of a teaspoonful of salt, a few dashes of cayenne, five tablespoonfuls of olive oil, three tablespoonfuls of mild vinegar and one teaspoonful of curry. Beat with a Dover egg beater until well blended.

Lettuce With Sherry's Dressing.—Mix three-fourths of a cupful of olive oil with five tablespoonfuls of vinegar, one teaspoonful of powdered sugar, one small southern onion chopped fine, one tablespoonful each of red and green pepper, one teaspoonful of salt and a few dashes of cayenne. Put into a mason jar and shake for five minutes. Set on ice and let stand an hour; shake well before using. Serve on lettuce.

Cresol Loaf.—Take one and one-half pounds of meat—pork and beef mixed; one good-sized onion chopped, salt, pepper and one cupful of cooked oatmeal; make into a loaf, adding a cupful of tomato. Place in a baking pan and pour over the loaf another cupful of tomato and one-half of a chopped onion. Roast, basting often. Thicken the gravy, serve with the meat. Bake one-half hour in a moderate oven.

A Thrilling Credo

The "Credo" is to most people merely a prayer which they recite weekly in the course of their Sunday service. But as sung by the Russian Symphonic Choir it becomes a thrilling experience. When the Choir made its New York debut, the Credo made such a deep impression that it had to be repeated, and one critic wrote as follows: "One of the most thrilling experiences we have had in the concert room this season was the performance of a 'Credo' by Gretchaninoff, the words intoned with a resonant intensity by a young mezzo of the choir, against a background by the other singers." The solo of this number is in monotone, which the soloist delivers with a rising inflection of the voice, while the Choir supports her by impressive majestic chords, which resemble an organ.

When the Choir makes its appearance here at George Washington Hall on October 23 the "Credo" will surely prove one of the most thrilling numbers on the program, as it has in New York and everywhere else.

The Craftsman's Kit

From his complete kit of tools the master workman selects the one that is best adapted for a specific purpose.

And in the making of cloth each one of the 60 American Woolen Company's mills concentrates on the fabrics which it is especially equipped to make better than any other mill. That is why every yard of fabric represents the highest quality that good material and modern manufacturing methods can produce.

Over Quarter Century of Progress of Great Company Has Meant Much To Andover and Its Citizens—New Officers Directing Destinies Efficiently—American Woolens in Demand Everywhere

A VIEW OF THE MODERN SHAWSHEEN MILL OF THE AMERICAN WOOLEN COMPANY

With a staff of expert designers constantly evolving new conceptions; with sixty mills, each one specializing on those fabrics which it is best adapted to make, it is safe to assume that the leading fabrics of each season come from the looms of the American Woolen Company.

Ayer First President

Frederick Ayer, the first president of the American Woolen Company, would glow with pride if he could but see the progress of the company, the leadership of which he assumed over a quarter of a century ago. The seal of the American Woolen Company is now known to clothing manufacturers and the finer tailors throughout the length and breadth of the country, and the public is beginning to realize that the purchase of foreign-made fabrics is no longer necessary. The glamour of distance, the lure of the unknown often makes one buy these foreign-made goods that are inferior in value to our own. The American public reaps a twofold benefit when they buy American-made fabrics. Not only is the cost decreased but the possibilities of sharing in the prosperity which home production creates are evident.

Fine Equipment

The mills of this company are equipped with the latest and best textile machinery. Skilled workers and the finest raw material the world produces are secured to make dependable woolen and worsted fabrics. Each mill specializes in the making of the fabrics for which it is especially equipped. Thus specialization and large-scale production enable the American Woolen Company, according to officials, to give "per dollar" values that cannot be duplicated here or abroad.

Shawsheen Mill Model

The Shawsheen mill, photograph of which appears above, is one of the mills owned and operated by this company. It is the last word in modern mill construction. Every known mechanical device for the efficient production of fabrics which are manufactured there, has been installed. The healthful conditions which prevail make possible increased and efficient production. The erection of this mill has been a great boon in the industrial, civic and financial growth of Andover.

The Wood Worsted mill in Lawrence employing in the vicinity of 9000 workers is the largest worsted mill in the world today and stands as a monument to the foresight and ability of those responsible for the remarkable growth of this company. What the mills in Andover and Lawrence have meant to these communities is repeated to some degree in every community in which plants of the company are located. In forty-one cities and towns American Woolen mills are providing employment, are giving stability to the local businesses, and by efficiently applying the productive energy of over 30,000 men and women, are a strong

Wm. M. Wood Founder

William M. Wood, well known to hundreds of Andover residents, was the founder of the American Woolen company. Andover today is justly proud of his works. Out of chaos in the Washington Mills years ago, he built the organization now known throughout the world as the American Woolen Company.

In countless ways the organization is today stronger and more flexible than at any time in its history, made possible by the firm foundation laid by those responsible for its existence.

Because of its tremendous buying power, the quality of the fabrics manufactured, the educational work being done in order that the American public be made to realize the fallacy of buying imported fabrics, and the efficient management, the American Woolen Company is bound to prosper and grow.

State Inspectors Visit Shawshon

A squad of State inspectors in charge of Inspector Chase, paid an unexpected visit to Shawshon Tuesday night and during a two-hour period stopped all machines on the cement highway just south of the village square.

More than 300 cars were examined by the officers and no less than 130 yellow tickets were served upon the hapless drivers who were adjudged to be operating machines with defective or glaring headlights.

A concerted drive is being made throughout the state at this time by a large force of inspectors for violations of the headlight law.

Drivers have been warned through the press, if in doubt, to have their headlights tested and properly focused. The examining squad included State Inspectors Chase, Perry, and McDonald, with Motorcycle Officer Gillespie and Patrolman Low of the Andover Police Department.

Long Time Resident Leaves Village

William Robinson of North Main street, a really old resident of Frye Village, has moved with his family to Boston, where he is now employed. A feeling of regret will come to the few old-time residents still remaining in the Village, to learn that another has moved away. He is the father of Rev. William Robinson, O. S. A., and another son, James, who at present is attending school in Boston, preparing to enter Holy Orders. His wife, was Mary McDonald, sister of ex-Postmaster John McDonald of Andover.

Suffers Painful Injury

Charles Murray of Magnolia avenue, suffered a painful, though happily not serious, injury to his right foot while at his employment at the Main street garage. "Charlie" was removing a battery from a car when the bottom gave way and the battery fell with crushing force upon his foot. He was immediately rushed to a doctor, but upon examination fortunately no bones were found broken. "Charlie" is widely known in the village, and was prominent as a school-boy, soccer player. He is a junior at Pynchard High school. His many friends will wish him a speedy recovery.

Take It As He Pleases

The irate customer shook his portrait in the photographer's face.

"Do I look like this picture? The thing's an outrage! Why, you've given me an awful squint and the look of a prize-fighting bully. Now, answer me, and no nonsense about it! Do you call that a good likeness?"

The photographer scanned the print, then looked at the customer. "The answer," he said, "is in the negative."

And the customer went away with a look of deep thought on his face.—Life.

SHAWSHEEN BOWLING

Shawsheen and Arbroath Give Best Exhibition of Season—Shawsheen and Clan Johnston Play to a Tie

The second game in the annual bowling match between the Shawsheen Village team and Arbroath was played off Sunday afternoon. Owing to the fine bowling of Skip Skea and Strachan, a close and spirited game resulted. The keen rivalry existing between these picked teams brought out probably the best bowling seen on the green this summer with Shawsheen having a slight edge, on their opponents and winning the game. The match is best two out of three, and, with one game won by each team, a large gathering of rooters will be on hand to cheer their favorites to victory next Sunday afternoon when the third and last game will be bowled.

The lineup:

SHAWSHEEN
T. Neale
G. Fyfe
J. Skea
D. Strachan, skip
Score: Shawsheen 23; Arbroath 14.

ARBROATH
A. Greenhow
J. Beattie
G. Skea
G. Gordon, skip
Score: Shawsheen 23; Arbroath 14.

Some very fine bowling was witnessed by followers of the bowling game in the match played between teams representing Shawsheen and Clan Johnston Saturday afternoon. McKenzie of the Clans was easily the star of the game, while Dana Clark played remarkably well. Play ended in a tie with one win and one loss for each team.

The lineup:

Team 1
Neale
Clark
Fyfe
Strachan, skip
Score: Shawsheen 22; Clan Johnston 13.

CLAN JOHNSTON
Team 2
McLay
Beattie
Dumny
G. Skea, skip
Score: Shawsheen 13; Clan Johnston 19.

New Sign Installed

A new hanging sign has been installed at the corner of Lowell and Canterbury streets, by the Andover Country Club, to direct visitors to the golf links.

Popular Officers Reassigned to Duty at Shawshon

The reassignment of officers John Deymond, James Walker and Thomas Daley to traffic duty at their old station in Shawshon Village has proved a popular order by Chief Frank M. Smith, judging by the cordial greetings extended these officers by passing auto drivers and pedestrians.

These courteous and considerate officers are looked upon as fixtures in the square, having been on duty at this point since the inception of the village and are known and called by name by almost every Villager. The absence of traffic tieups, accidents, and congestion during the heavy rush hours, offers a splendid tribute to the commendable and efficient manner in which these three popular officers perform their official duties.

Communication

Conditions at the Shawshon School are of interest to Andover tax payers. A handsome building which many prophesied would be a white elephant for the town is already used to its fullest capacity.

A banner enrollment of over 270 pupils for the present term at the Shawshon School, five of the seven grades now taught there, being practically overcrowded, and the possibility of eight full grades being opened next year are facts which would indicate that the school problem in Shawshon has not been wholly removed by the erection of the present school building.

With the termination of construction and the removal of the administration offices to Boston by the American Woolen Company, it was feared by some that the full benefit of the new school would not be realized by the Town. On the contrary, the school population has increased rather than decreased by these changes due to the fact that the new families moving into the village are bringing many children of school age. Should the present increase continue for the next five years, the School Committee may be compelled to go before the Town and ask for the completion of the west wing or as an alternative, be necessitated to reopen the Old Richardson School for the lower grades. Much unfair and unmerited criticism has been voiced by wholly honest and sincere, but misinformed citizens against the small group of public serving men who were burdened with the responsibility of providing adequate school facilities for the children in this section of the Town. The present enrollment in a measure indicates the wisdom and foresightedness of the late Dr. Conroy and his associates who gave unstintingly of their time and thought towards the consummation of this model school. Any interested person who could be present at the joint opening exercises held every morning in the Assembly hall, and every moving in the way has proven one of the most essential parts of the child's school life, could not help being impressed with the conviction that even the present school is hardly equal to the requirements of the growing village.

A SHAWSHEEN VILLAGER

Shawsheen Teachers

Through an unfortunate oversight, the name of Miss Ann Harnedy was omitted from the published list of teachers in last week's Townsman. The correct list of teachers and their grades is as follows:

First Grade—Miss Ethel Anderson.
Second Grade—Miss Rachel Stickney.
Third Grade—Miss Sarah Campbell.
Fourth Grade—Miss Roxanna Smith.
Fifth Grade—Miss Ann Harnedy.
Sixth Grade—Miss Vera Thurston.
Seventh Grade—Miss Genevieve McNally, Principal.

(The omission of Miss Harnedy's name is due to the fact that the list was copied from the last annual report of the School Committee in which her name does not appear.—Editor)

"Eddie" Rondeau, the well-known newsboy of the Village, who recently suffered a fractured arm in a fall from a tree, is so far recovered as to expect to have the splints removed the latter part of the week.

A druggist has read this note the other day: My baby has cut his father's parish plaster. Send an anecdote quick by the enclosed girl, also send a bottle of O. Dick alone, as I am a little historical.—Toronto Telegram

PERSONALS

Several residents of the village were tagged by the state inspectors Tuesday evening for headlight irregularities.

Leon A. Field has moved his family into the house just vacated by Allen G. McKinnon on Haverhill street.

Many residents of the Village journeyed over the road to Topsfield Saturday and enjoyed the amusements offered at the fair.

Mrs. E. Woodhead of Ayer street has returned to her home duties after enjoying a pleasant visit with relatives in New York.

Harry E. Pelton and family of York street, have removed from the Village to their new home, which he recently purchased in Newton.

Mrs. Abbie Smith of Cambridge is renewing the acquaintance of friends and relatives at the home of George Dannels on Sutherland street.

Mrs. William Schierenbeck has returned to her home on Sutherland street after enjoying a pleasant vacation with friends in New York.

Allen G. McKinnon and family are now living on Carlisle street in the cottage made vacant by the removal of Mrs. F. M. Clark, from the Village.

Miss Rachel Stickney and Miss Roxanna Smith, teachers in the Shawshon School, are residing at the home of Alexander Wallace on Sherbourne street.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Bannigan of Danielson, Conn., spent the week-end as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Needham Brown, on Carisbrook street.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Voorhees, former residents of the village, but now of Hoboken, N. J., are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. George Winslow on Lowell street.

Miss Dorothy Wanamaker, who is employed in the American Woolen Co. Office in Boston, will spend her vacation at the home of Joseph Stott, High street, Ballardvale.

Leonard Sherman will remove with his family from 124 Main street to Carisbrook street, occupying the house vacated by Gayton Abbott, who recently removed to Arlington.

An ornamental illuminated sign resting on double standards has been installed in the grass plot in front of the Main Street Garage, replacing one recently blown down by a wind storm.

Miss Ethel Anderson, teacher of the first grade at Shawshon, has been enrolled for the fall term at Boston University. Miss Anderson will take a special extension course for teachers on child psychology.

Topping Road is being widened and graded preparatory to offering it for acceptance at the next town meeting. More than forty homes have been erected within the last five years in this rapidly growing section of the village.

Miss Margaret V. Cronin, school dentist, will be located in the Clinic room of the Shawshon School for the next six weeks, making an examination of the teeth of the children in the Shawshon, West Centre and outlying schools.

It will be pleasing news to the many friends of Mrs. Albert N. Wade to learn that her mother, Mrs. Thomas, is rapidly convalescing at her home on Carisbrook street. Mrs. Thomas submitted to a successful operation at the Barr Sanatorium.

The fine weather of the last few days has drawn out many patrons of the "Love" game on the Balmoral Courts. The courts have been very busy every afternoon and a large number of spectators have enjoyed watching the play from the wall.

The little bathhouses which ornamented the dam at Hussey's pond have all been torn down and removed the past week. They were erected as an expression of Mr. Wood's thoughtful interest in the comfort of the children using the pond for bathing.

Miss Nellie Miesenti of Corbett road has joined her father, who has been located for several months at Middletown, Conn., where he is engaged in construction work. Miss Miesenti was a member of the first class graduated from the Shawshon School.

Miss Vera Thurston, teacher of the sixth grade at the Shawshon School, is residing at the home of Charles E. Buckley on Ayer street. Miss Thurston was elected this year to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Iva Larkin who was married in June. Miss Thurston's home is in Foxboro.

A Levasier of Fletcher street has removed with his family to Rockport, Ill. Mr. Levasier came to Andover a few years ago to take a responsible position in the Shawshon Mill, but the West held a stronger appeal for him, so he decided to return to his former home. They made the trip over the road in their new automobile.

Alexander Wallace, formerly with the Shawshon Garage, spent the week-end with his family on Sherbourne street. Mr. Wallace is temporarily located at Providence, R. I., where he is superintending the removal and installation of machinery in the carpet mill to be operated shortly at Warren, by his brother, George M. Wallace, former secretary and close friend of the late William M. Wood.

Special Police Officer William Shaw of Sutherland street has returned to his former duties with the Standard Oil Co. of North Andover. During the summer months Mr. Shaw has been engaged as maintenance man by the Standard Oil Co., repairing their delivery trucks in the territory between Manchester and Colebrook. That mountain air agrees with Mr. Shaw is evidenced by his fine physical appearance.

Miss Roxanna Smith has been doing considerable concert work during the vacation months, together with W. S. Bond, a singer of note, in the larger towns of Nova Scotia. Miss Smith possesses a sweet melodious voice of rare quality and wide range, and no doubt her services will be sought after during the winter months. Miss Smith studied vocal culture before coming to Andover to teach, and last year was a pupil of Gordon S. Brown, organist of Christ Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Peters of Sterling street have returned to their home after spending their vacation at Jackson, N. H. Before leaving they were pleased to greet Mr. and Mrs. James Christie and daughter, Dorothy, who together with Mr. and Mrs. George Christie will be located at Jackson for the next two weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Peters made daily trips through the mountains and were very much impressed by the beauty of the foliage at this season of the year.

HAGEN AT COUNTRY CLUB

National Professional Champion Sets a New Record in Dazzling Exhibition of Golf—Praises Andover Course

Walter Hagen visited the Andover Country Club and gave a very large gallery a demonstration as to why he holds the title of National Professional Champion. In a dazzling exhibition of golf he traveled the course with a 68 score, setting a new record which will probably stand for some time. Despite the rain which fell in the morning, Mr. Hagen found the course in excellent condition.

For the second time in a few weeks Mr. Hagen has broken old records and established new ones, once at the Kenzo Club and again at the Andover Club. Shooting six birdies and 10 pars accounted for the 68 score which might have been 65 had not the pill on three occasions rolled round the rim of the cup and then fallen away.

"BIRDIES" OF THE PLAY
Hagen played superior golf from the beginning of play, and gave the impression of leaving little to be desired. That the Andover Club would long remember.

Hagen played the going-out round in 36 and the return in 32.

The gallery was very orderly and gave little trouble to the officials or players.

Many members of the Merrimac Valley Country Club were among the interested spectators.

Hagen caused a smile on one approach to a green when he remarked, after the ball had stopped, "It is one foot short of where I meant it to be."

Hagen played cautiously throughout the match and the conditions required took time to figure out his shot.

Win Knowlton had charge of the arrangements. It was at his suggestion a $50 prize was offered for the player who lowered the course record.

Hagen complimented the Andover Club for their splendid course, saying it was one of the best he has yet played on.

Steen outclassed Hagen on the long drives, making 295 yards of the third tee to Hagen's 270 yards.

Hagen made a sensational recovery from a clump of bushes just off the ninth fairway. He got a five where another would have taken a ten.

Boy Scouts Resume Activities

The first meeting of Andover Troop 1, Boy Scouts of America, is scheduled to be held this evening in the school basement at 7.15 o'clock.

Scout Leader Lieutenant Paul Rice, M. N. G., will lead the boys another year. Boys of the village who are twelve years or over, and are interested in Scout work and play, should present themselves at this meeting for enrollment. Patrols will be organized and leaders appointed as none of last year's patrol of leaders are available because of removals from the village or absence at school.

The Scout leader, Lieutenant Rice, has had many years of military training, having been in service on the Mexican border, and in the World War. He has also served in the U. S. Navy, and is at present a commissioned officer of the State Militia at Lowell.

Lieutenant Rice makes an ideal leader for the boys who look up to him with much respect, and he enjoys the confidence and support of the Troop Committees. He is deeply interested in the training of the future American citizen.
